End of an Era: Thank you Bishop Tom!

On June 21, the Diocesan community will gather at Jamaica Pond to celebrate and give thanks for +Tom Shaw's 20 years as our Bishop. As is typical of Bishop Tom, he wants the emphasis of the day to be on the community of the Diocese rather than on him. The celebration will begin with the Eucharist at 10:30 at which former Presiding Bishop the Most Rev. Frank Griswold will preach and the Rt. Rev. Barbara C. Harris will offer reflections. During the offertory, every parish will present its red book of memories in thanksgiving for Bishop Tom's ministry among us. After the Lord's Table, all are invited to bring and share picnics; the Diocese will provide beverages and ice cream. A North Shore Deanery bus will leave from the St. Stephen's parking lot at 9:00am.

Over the next several weeks, I encourage everyone to write in our remembrance book. The book will be in the Galahad Area before and after services each Sunday in June. Drawings and photographs can certainly be included. Reflections may be emailed to the office, and we will print them and paste them in the book. Each Church School Class will have its turn to fill up some of the pages with words of thanks or exuberant drawings. The goal is to have the rich diversity of each parish reflected in the pages of the books of remembrance.

Certainly for St. Stephen's, the episcopate of +M. Thomas Shaw SSJE has been an important two decades. Bishop Tom's investment in youth made a huge difference in the life of our parish. Before my time, the identification of St. Stephen's as a Diocesan Center for Mission brought a million dollars to the parish for urban outreach and youth ministry. We know the blessing to the parish and city of Jason Cruz, lots of adult volunteers, and all the now adults of Sr. and Jr. CLYDE. From the first class of the Youth Leadership Academy until today, St. Stephen's young people have built skills and relationships through the YLA. And, from its opening in 2007 until now, St. Stephen's has provided campers and staff for the "Camp that +Tom Built" in celebration of the historic leadership of Bishop Barbara Harris.

Bishop Tom's commitment to the mission of the church in the city resulted in the creation of the Urban Assistant program, which we piloted with Cliff Brown and from which we have benefited over the years with Matt Stewart, Courtney Davis Shoemaker, Dorothea Littlepage, and our July arrival Sarah van Gulden. And, of course, the Diocesan Intern program launched by +Tom brought us Adam Shoemaker, Chris Kanyua, Charlie Knuth, Andrew Phillips, Paul Daniels, and Dan Bell, who will be back with us again next year. In addition, Kids in Community has consistently received support from the Bishop's Discretionary Fund. And, we hope that Bishop Tom's last creation, "the mission hubs" will bring much needed resources to St. Stephen's to support our outreach ministries in the city.

Finally, as we remember last summer's scaffolding and wait for our stone to dry, we give thanks for the TogetherNow Campaign that inspired us and provided technical assistance to raise over $400,000 to launch our current restoration work.

The visionary leadership of Bishop Tom has transformed our Diocese and parish. Now is our time to give thanks. Write in the book; get on the bus on the 21st; offer a prayer!

Jane⁺

Dear Friends in Christ,

Today is Wednesday, 21 May 2014, and it is about four months since the Rev'd Jane Gould first contacted me back in January to ask if I might be able to come out of retirement again to assist in the ministry at Saint Stephen's on a very part-time basis through the end of June. I was delighted with the invitation and the opportunity to be with and among the beloved people and staff of Saint Stephen's for a second tour of duty! But, I must say that the time has flown by quickly, and here we are on the doorstep of the month of June with my last Sunday scheduled to be 22 June and my last Monday as 23 June! Hence, the Rev'd Jane invited me to write a message to the parish for the June newsletter.

You will remember my earlier reference in a newsletter and in two sermons to a favorite television show of my youth growing up in New York City in the 1950s entitled: "Kukla, Fran, and Ollie" (KFO). What I recall most clearly for our lives together again at Saint Stephen's is the theme song from KFO entitled: "Here We Are Again" which we joyfully sang as a community on my two sermon dates in March—the second time it was especially for Jane because she had been away from the parish the first time around. This made our hearts glad and is a wonderful memory for me. But, dear friends in Christ, "Here We Are Again," preparing to say farewell and goodbye to one another in the next several weeks.

Saint Stephen's is a wonderful and beloved parish to me, and I have treasured my time here with you, and I have many special memories that I hold dear in my heart, mind, and soul. Recently, I was asked by someone outside the parish what Saint Stephen's was like. As a response, two things came to mind: one from the Scripture and one from a famous prayer. As for Scripture, Saint Stephen's is a solid, strong, and living branch and manifestation of Christ's teaching where he says: "Abide in me as I abide in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit by itself unless it abides in the vine, neither can you unless you abide in me. I am the vine, you are the branches. Those who abide in me and I in them bear much fruit, because apart from me you can do nothing" [John 15: 4-5]. Saint Stephen's is an "abide" church and bears much good fruit; it has blessed my own life and the lives of many others. As for prayer, Saint Stephen's lives out the Prayer of Saint Teresa of Avila: "Christ has no body on earth but yours; yours are the only hands with which he can do his work, yours are the only feet with which he can go about the world, yours are the only eyes through which his compassion can shine forth upon a troubled world. Christ has no body now on earth but yours." This prayer captures, I think, the essence of the ministry of clergy and people at Saint Stephen's.

I am grateful to the Rev'd Jane, the people of Saint Stephen's, and Linda Midland [Office Manager] for the opportunity to work and minister here. It has been a blessing to me and always will be. Please know that you will live on in my heart, mind, and soul, and please remember that we are always together as friends in Christ who is the One who brought us together in the first place. We can never be separated from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord as Saint Paul tells us in Romans 8. And so, dear friends I leave you in prayer with the "Mizpah Benediction": "The Lord watch between you and me, when we are absent one from the other" [Genesis 31:49].

I pray that you may always know the peace of God which passes all understanding, the healing power of Christ Jesus, and the comfort of the Holy Spirit.

In Christ, who has brought us together as friends,

THESE STREETS

“I had rather be a door keeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.” These words from Psalm 84 (Ps. 84b, KJ) have often come to my mind over the decades, expressing the priorities I hope may guide my life. Just recently they became a practical reality, as I stood at a locked door in our church nave, allowing individuals to leave or enter.

I was there for three hours while the church hosted the wake for a local black teenager recently shot to death in an altercation. Hundreds of family and friends passed the open casket, paying their last respects in silence, in prayer, in conversation, in tears, in wails, in speech, or in song. As door keeper in the house of my God, my task was to open the way for them, by ones or twos, to access the bathrooms.

Many of the young people and children were wearing tee shirts proclaiming: “These streets don't love you like your family does.” Our rector later suggested that the church was able to offer its space and the mourners were able to accept it because their need to grieve was seen and was responded to, while there were no questions or judgments. While the Church is people, and we are good people; the hospitality also depended on the Church, the well-prayed-in building, a asylum from the streets where the city and state police were watchfully attending.

As I was “keeping the door” I prayed, “God, have mercy on this family; God, have mercy on our city; God have mercy on our nation.”

“These streets don't love you like your family does.” Indeed, love may blossom in a family, but the family is not alone—“it takes a village to raise a child.” In America the kids have a village--the streets and the schools--and too often it is not loving.

I witnessed this tragedy bringing family and friends and sympathetic church members together in a common and meaningful experience and in large numbers. I couldn't help but compare those numbers to the fewer numbers of those with whom I had stood one day earlier and a block away at a “May Day March and Rally for Immigrant and Worker Rights.” There, a crowd estimated in the local paper to be about a hundred persons, heard and cheered community efforts to keep families together, to enhance educational opportunities, and to encourage employment. To make “the streets” more nurturing and loving.

Tragedy and grief bring people together.

Hope doesn't succeed so well as tragedy does.

LOOKING BACK, LOOKING FORWARD: A REFLECTION BY DAN BELL

As I look back on the past several months that I have been serving as Diocesan Intern at St. Stephen's, many different feelings well up inside me. First and foremost, I feel gratitude for my time with all of you so far. I'm grateful for the youth and young adults I've gotten to know and work with on awesome projects like CPPK. I'm thankful for all of the support and encouragement I've received, and for all of the kind friends and mentors I've made along the way. I'm also grateful for the many opportunities I've had at St. Stephen's to continue exploring and testing my sense of call to the priesthood through preaching, pastoral care visits, community organizing, working with children and youth, and in so many other ways. On a related note, I'm deeply thankful for each member of my discernment committee, which wraps up this month, and the time they've offered to help me thoughtfully and prayerfully discern my vocation.

I feel challenged as well by the experiences I've had at St. Stephen's since August. As a staff member and parishioner, I've seen firsthand how difficult it is to cross "lines of color, class, culture, and generation" to make "Christ's Gospel of love, compassion, and justice known." These words from our mission statement call me to leave my comfort zone, which I have done many times at St. Stephen's, though not on every occasion. My experience so far has taught me a great deal about my strengths and weaknesses as someone who wants to pursue ordained ministry. They've shown me where I need to take more risks, think more "outside of the box," and dive more deeply into relationships and the life of the community.

As I prepare to leave on June 15th to spend the summer at BCH as the Camp's Faith Formation Director, I'm excited to know that I will return for a second year at St. Stephen's in August! As an Emmaus Fellow in the Life Together program, I'll be taking on additional responsibilities in Boston (including another year of intentional community) while also committing to more hours at St. Stephen's. While I know this won't be easy, I look forward to staying on at St. Stephen's, deepening my relationships within the church community and beyond, and continuing to embrace the challenge of making the Gospel known.

What is the role of Scripture? What is the role of Tradition? What does a Christian perspective contribute to our understanding of economics? Finally, to close, we will consider inequality and growing inequality in the distribution of income in the United States. Lunch will be provided.

HOSPITALITY TO CHILDREN, YOUTH & YOUNG ADULTS

OASIS NEWS: MOTHER'S DAY BRUNCH A SUCCESS!

Youth and young adults (along with some adult helpers) hosted a wonderfully successful Mother's Day Brunch on May 11th. Between services, guests ate breakfast casseroles, fruit, and sweet treats while dining in the Graham Suite and enjoying one another's company. All mothers as well as all who mother young people in our church received thank you art blocks for being "keys to success."

OASIS MEETS JUNE 13 & 27 AT 6:30. All teens are invited to join the fun as we move forward with PROJECT 135, our campaign to support MA House Bill 135, an Act Providing Housing and Support Services for Unaccompanied Homeless Youth. In addition, we'll be celebrating our seniors as we welcome new 8th and 9th graders into the group.

"SPRING INTO THE COMMUNITY!" YOUTH CLEAN-UP DAY JUNE 7. All 7th, 8th, and 9th graders are invited to our Neighborhood Clean Up on Saturday, June 7th, from 11am to 3pm! We need adult volunteers to serve as team leaders and to bring our potluck lunch. Tools and supplies will be provided but bring work gloves and tools if you have them. To sign up or ask questions, call Dan Bell at 631-807-6725 or email him at dpb3022@gmail.com.

YAs CONTINUE TO ORGANIZE. Young adults joined the St. Stephen's ECCO Team in May for a joint dinner and story-sharing time. The next YA Dinner is Tuesday, June 10th, at 6:30pm. We will continue discussing involvement in social justice work in our community. We'll also chat about possible plans for this summer and next fall, including a possible retreat!

CHURCH SCHOOL WRAPS UP JUNE 8th! The last day of Church School classes is June 8th. Teachers will gather in the Graham Suite at 12:30 (having gotten food from the Pentecost cookout!) to discuss how the year went and brainstorm ideas for next fall. Anyone who is interested in serving as a Church School teacher for 2014-2015 is also welcome to join us. On Graduation Celebration Sunday on June 15th, we all will have an opportunity to thank our teachers for their faithful work this year sharing their faith with our young people.

GRADUATION CELEBRATION SUNDAY JUNE 15. On June 15, our high school seniors will take the lead in offering reflections during our 10:00 worship. We also will celebrate all others completing degree programs. If you or someone in your family is graduating this spring, please call the office or sign up in the Galahad Area. In addition, we award St. Stephen's Scholarships for higher education on the 15th.

ST. STEPHEN'S SCHOLARSHIPS—JUNE 1 DEADLINE. Thanks to the generosity of past and present members of St. Stephen's, the parish awards about $3,000 in scholarships each June. Scholarships support higher education and students may receive awards up to four times. Awards are based on financial need and parish involvement. Applications must be submitted each year and are due by June 1, 2014. Recipients are expected to attend the June 15 Graduation Celebration Award Ceremony.

BCH SUMMER CAMP APPLICATIONS ARE PAST DUE. BCH Camp begins June 28 and runs through August 2; some weeks are already full. This week many outdoor adventure opportunities exist as well as specialty camps. There also is a 2-week camp option. BCH remains committed to making Camp accessible for all young people who want to attend. For a 4th-12th grader to go to the Camp—parents must complete registration forms, physician signed health forms, and clergy-signed scholarship request forms. In addition, if a family cannot pay at least 1/3 ($192) of the cost for a week, the Camp requests a note explaining the need for extra financial assistance.

SIGN UP FOR BCH FAMILY CAMP JUNE 26-29! For families with children too young for BCH Summer Camp who would like a weekend of fun and faith at the Camp, sign up now for Family Camp. St. Stephen's and the Diocese want to make Family Camp affordable for families in the parish. Please talk with the Rector if your family would like to go to Camp the last weekend in June.

KIC STARTS JULY 7. KIC (Kids in Community) is a free, fun summer program that meets at St. Stephen's on weekdays during July. Any child who has completed 1st-5th grade is eligible, and registration has already begun. Registration forms are available in the office and Galahad area. KIC will run for four weeks, until August 2nd, and campers can look forward to days filled with art, games Zumba, poetry, gardening, field trips to the Aquarium and Museum of Science, getting to know their fabulous teen mentors, and much more!

KIC NEEDS ADULTS TOO! KIC still has lots of volunteer slots to fill, and interested adult volunteers are needed for both one-day and more extended commitments. There are things to do working more directly with kids, and a few tasks that are a little more behind the scenes. We particularly need folks who would like to read to children, to help maintain the garden, to teach basic cooking (especially healthy cooking!) and to assist daily with serving lunch and breakfast to campers. KIC is a team effort that depends on volunteers, so please consider helping out. Please get in touch with Audrey Gutfreund, KIC Director, at 617-435-3325 or audrey.gutfreund@gmail.com if you're interested in volunteering.

ENGLISH CONVERSATION GROUP STARTING. In collaboration with Operation Bootstrap, St. Stephen's will offer a conversation group for English language learners to practice skills in conversation with native speakers of English, while everyone makes new friends.
